Nexus and PortWise merge to create a market leader within Identity and Access Management

Nexus and PortWise have merged to create a market leader within Identity and Access Management, one of the fastest growing areas in IT. With the merger both companies can now offer the best information protection solution available on the market.

Digital information exchange must be secured from point to point; in servers, computers, cell phones and in the Cloud.

Today, IT and Internet, are central for handling sensitive information and knowledge. Access to the right information, for the right person, at the right time and from any location are decisive for companies and organisations ability to succeed in today's information society.

- Identity and Access Management, IAM, are according to leading analysts, one of the fastest growing areas within IT. Nexus and PortWise will together have a market leading product portfolio that will benefit existing and new customers, says Peter Gille, CEO of Nexus.

By combing the Nexus and PortWise products the joint offering will create a broader offering and customers will be able to cover all of their identity and access management needs with one single vendor.

- Both companies complement each other in terms of products, markets and sales channels, says Peter Gille.

Nexus and PortWise specializes in customers with high demands on security and integrity. Existing customers includes Fortune 500 companies, banks, healthcare providers, police and military organisations.

Both companies will together have businesses in Europe, USA, Latin America and Asia.
